

Peter Cudek Trio

Peter Cudek, a double bassist based in Munich, Germany, is a musical artist who generates sound of finesse alongside many an esteemed musician. In addition to his playing, he is also a composer, ingeniously infusing the colour and shades that have characterised his life into his composition of music.

Peter sees his composition of music as the sharing of that which resides deep within his heart. It is his hope that his composition may perhaps act as a medium that would awaken any dormant potential in its appreciators, an awakening that may go on to enrich their lives.

To express his composition, Peter spearheaded the formation of a trio. The trio includes pianist Walter Lang and drummer Shinya Fukomori, both unique artists in their own right. Together, the three are Peter Cudek Trio.

Peter Cudek Trio may best be described as a trio unconstrained by structure. Each member commands the freedom to express their momentary states as they feel into the composition and creatively tune in to the other. Collectively, the trio creates a sound that exudes individuality in harmony through a melody.
